BAND FUND STILL SHORT ABOUT $1,500

DONATIONS FROM THOSE WHO HAVE ENJOYED MUSIC ASKED

BOARD OF TRADE COMMITTEE
ANXIOUS TO HAVE AMOUNTS
ALL PAID AT ONCE AND ALL ARE ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE.

The fund to pay for the Saracina
Royal Italian band is still short $1,500 of the amount required and the members of the board of trade committee, which has charge of the raising of this fund, is anxious to have the fund made up at once.

The members of the committee are
C. G. Burgoyne, L. M. Waite and F.
M. Rowe, and all persons who have an inclination to help make up the band fund, are requested to hand their donations to any one of the members of this committee, or leave the sum at the Daily News office.

The soliciting committee has decided to publish the names of the donators and the sums contributed every day to give the people an opportunity to see the amount grow until the required $1,500 has been reached. This sum will complete the amount needed to pay the members of the band and pay for the new seats and kiosks.

The daily concerts given by the Saracina band during the season have been one of the biggest attractions ever offered to tourists in the city of Daytona, and the pleased crowds which have listened to the concerts every morning, afternoon and evening have shown that the concerts have been thoroughly appreciated by the tourists and local residents.

Some of these people have shown their appreciation by "coming across" handsomely in the way of contributions, but there are many others who have failed to show their appreciation in such a substantial way.

If you have enjoyed the concerts and want the band to come here again next season, hand your contribution to any member of the committee or leave it at the Daily News office.
Any sized donation will be thankfully received.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. F. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

TOO MUCH PROTEIN STRAINS KIDNEYS.

"The surplus of proteid food commonly consumed," says Prof. Chittenden in the Popular Science Monthly, "is wholly unphysiological and in the long run detrimental to the best interests of the individual." If bread and other forms of the cereals are made the staple of the diet, and if two glasses of milk are taken daily the adult will obtain sufficient proteid without any eggs, cheese or meat at all. If these high proteid foods are added, a severe strain is imposed upon the kidneys which tends to rheumatism, Bright's disease and arterio-sclerosis. There seems to be a general agreement among authorities on diet that, as so often insisted upon in these hints, too much flesh forming food is eaten, and especially too much meat, and ultimately good must result from gradually reducing the amount. As many readers have testified.

What She Supposed. Shortly after St. Lawrence Alma-Tadema, R. A., was knighted, he and Lady Alma-Tadema, who was an "at home" at St. John's Wood. Everybody present was congratulating them, and one lady was very profuse. "Oh, dear Sir Lawrence," she said, "I am awfully glad to hear of the honor you have received. I suppose now that you are knighted you will give up painting and live like a gentleman."

Today. Today is your day and mine, the only day we have, the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole, we may not understand; but this we know—it is a part of action, not of whining; of love, not of cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness.—David Starr Jordan.

Art's Place in Life. Art calls forth contemplative emotions, otherwise dormant, and creates in the routine and scramble of individual wants and habits a sanctuary . . . nay, rather a holy hill, neither ploughed nor hunted over, a free high place in which we can see clearly, breathe widely, and, for a while, live harmlessly, serenely, fully.—Vernon Lee.

DIDN'T SAY OWN LANGUAGE

Filipino Draws Down on His Head Indignation of Amateur Interpreter.

A party of tourists in a small Filipino village were trying to make the native driver of a bull cart understand that they wished their baggage transferred from the bungalow to the railway station at two o'clock in the afternoon. But the native did not seem to comprehend either their gestures or their hybrid language.

Standing near the tourists was a recruit of the United States army, who had been in the "Islands" just a month and was extremely proud of the few words of "Hog Spanish" that he had learned. So he offered his services as interpreter.

"Say, hombre," said he impressively to the Filipino, "when the clock on that steeple yonder strikes two, 'ding-ding, you get your bull cart, 'moo-moo,' and carry these trunks to the station, 'toot-toot, 'Savey!'"

"No sabe," solemnly replied the native.

"What-ah!" roared the interpreter. "Do you mean to tell me that you don't understand your own language?"

—Everybody's.

Simplify Life.

"I do believe in simplicity. It is astonishing as well as sad, how many trivial affairs even the wisest man thinks he must attend to in a day; how singular an affair he thinks he must omit. When the mathematician would solve a difficult problem he first frees the equation of all incubrances and reduces it to its simplest terms. So simplify the problem of life, distinguish the necessary and the real.—From Thoreau "Letters."

Very Human Wish.

Merta was five years old, and she had been told so many times that she was a big girl now and must be good that her very soul had sickened. "I don't want to be five years old any longer," she grumbled. "I'm tired of being five and good enough to kill you. I'd rather stay four and be just medium and have a good time."

Galsworthy Aphorisms.

Nothing that's true is cynical, and nothing that is cynical is true. The word "smart" is the guardian angel of all fashions, and fashions are the guardian angels of vulgarity.—"For Love of Beasts," by John Galsworthy.

Sum of Duty.

Do naught to other which, if done to thee, would cause thee pain; this is the sum of duty.—Mahabharata.

Worth While. We may be sure, although we know not how, we give our lives like coral insects, to build up, invisibly, in the twilight of the sea of time, the reef of righteousness; and we may be sure, although we see not why, it is a thing worth doing.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Played His Own Wedding March. In a wedding ceremony at the Holy Rosary Catholic church of Reading, Pa., the bridegroom, Giovanni Pace, organist of the church, played his own wedding march while the rest of the bridal party entered the church and advanced to the altar. At the conclusion of the march the bridegroom proceeded to the chancel rail and met his bride.

To Clean a Gas Range. The loose parts of a gas range frequently become so greasy and dirty that they can scarcely be cleaned. Place these parts on the coals in the furnace when the fire is low and it will quickly burn them quite clean without injury.

Serious Omission. The new millionaire's banquet table was spread, and the guests about to be summoned.

"Are you sure there are no reporters present?" anxiously asked the host of the butler.

"I've made certain of it, sir." "Then go out and get a few," rejoined the host.—Canadian Courier.

True to Nature. The tots in a primary class in some training were imitating anything they choose. When it was Hare's turn, she stepped into the center of the room and wriggled her body from side to side. No one could guess what she was impersonating, so she was asked to explain. "Why," she said, "I was a little oog wagging its tail."

Swat Indirect. Mandy—What for ye ben gots' to de postoffice so reglar? Are ye correspondin' wif some other female? Rastus—Nope; but since ah been a-readin' in de papers 'bout dese 'science funds ah kind of thought ah might possibly git a lettah from dat ministah what married us.—Life.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS
 By DR. T. J. ALLEN
 Food Specialist
 TEN PER CENT. ALBUMINOUS ELEMENT SUFFICIENT FOR ADULTS.
 "Superior physical and probably superior mental power comes from reducing the amount of protein," says Professor Fleher, the well-known food experimenter of Yale University. This means practically a reduction in the use of lean meat and eggs, especially the whites of eggs. But he adds, "I am by no means convinced that a strictly vegetarian diet is better than a diet containing some animal and even fish foods." It has been frequently suggested in these Hints that the customary amount of protein should be reduced. I have found by many tests that ten per cent. of albuminous food is sufficient in the diet of the adult. This can be obtained without the use of eggs, flesh, cheese, nuts or even milk. The cereals, with the exception of rice, contain sufficient. I have used no meat, eggs, cheese or fish for several years. The diet of any adult can be improved by excluding meat and eggs altogether.
 (Copyright, 1911, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Bruce and the Spider.
 Apparently the little farside story about Bruce and the spider is in the category of fables. So eminent an authority as Sir Herbert Maxwell says in "Robert the Bruce":
 "What is the evidence to be found in support of it? Not in the writings of Barbour, Fordun or Wyntoun, those most nearly contemporary with Bruce and least likely to suppress a circumstance so picturesque and illustrating so aptly the perseverance and patience of the national hero under desperate difficulties.
 "No; nothing is heard of this adventure till long after Bruce and his comrades had passed away, and then it makes its appearance in company with such trash as the miraculous appearance of the arm bone of St. Fillan on the eve of Bannockburn, and worthy of just about as much consideration."
 So goes another of the venerated legends of childhood.

Title of Pope.
 It is uncertain when the title pope was first used. The earliest instance we can cite, is that of Heraclius, Patriarch of Alexandria, in 222. It is still the ordinary title of parish priests in the eastern Greek church. In the west, it continued for several centuries to be applied to bishops generally, but it was restricted to the Roman pontiff by Gregory VII. in a synod, held at Rome in 1073.

Real Friend.
 There is one friend who will never fail you while you have hands to move and a brain to plan. In your dreariest hours she will be your sweet refuge, and in times of prosperity she will guard you from "the pride which goeth before a fall." She will bring you long nights of restful sleep at the end of your busy days and when other friends grow careless or disdainful, she will absorb you more and more. Her name is Work, and neither the highest nor the lowest can be happy for long without her.

Gem Worth Remembering.
 With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wound; to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.
 —Abraham Lincoln.

Way Out.
 The easiest way to avoid argument over the pronunciation of a word is to use a synonym, as those who say "station" instead of "depot" know. But few would go so far as the carpenter who, in conversation with a friend on a street car, answered a query as to his work by saying: "I'm working in one of those automobile barns."

Underground Workers.
 Six million persons make their living under ground, working in mines and quarries. That number is about twice the population of this country when it decided to cut away from England and go it alone. Those six million workers dig four billions of wealth a year out of the bowels of the earth.

STORY OF WRECKED SHIP NOT BELIEVED

MAN AT PENSACOLA DECLARES
HE WAS THE SOLE SURVIVOR

TELLS TALE OF SHIP HAVING GONE DOWN IN GULF BUT AU-THORITIES CAN'T FIND TRACE OF VESSEL.

PENSACOLA, March 12—After the police had investigated, ship brokers had bestirred themselves and pilots and life-savers had made statements, officers have reached the conclusion that the story of the wreck of the British schooner, Rescue, and the drowning of nine men in the gulf Sunday morning was nothing but the product of an unbalanced mind, and that Fred York, the British seaman who reported the matter, is suffering from an hallucination that he is the only man of a crew of ten men to have escaped a whirling grave. York talks very rationally and to newspaper men he complained that the police did not take his statement seriously but believed him crazy.

York, when he first reached the city, declared the vessel had sprung a bad leak and gone down about four miles from shore at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. He said the vessel was bound from Baltimore for Pensacola and that he escaped by clinging to an upturned boat for hours and then swimming two miles. His story created a sensation for a time, but when the Santa Rosa life saving station was communicated with it was found that the lookout had not even sighted a British schooner during the night or day and even ten miles off shore he could easily have detected a vessel coming towards port. Police believe York's mind became deranged possibly through suffering in a shipwreck previously and that he is a deserter from some vessel now in port.

Five barrels, each barrel containing about 200 pint flasks of whiskey, have been seized at Esto, a small town east of here, by the sheriff of Holmes county, in which the town is located. The liquor was being loaded into a wagon to be hauled to Hartford, Ala., it is claimed, when it was confiscated. The man who had the shipment in charge escaped leaving his team behind.

The steamer Mantec, a large coast steamer which formerly plied between Pensacola, New Orleans and other ports, and which has been suspected recently of having been purchased by agents of Cipriano Castro, deposed ruler of Venezuela, for filibustering purposes, is still tied up at Panama City. For two weeks the vessel has had up steam, a full crew aboard and fully provisioned, but the new owners have never given an order for her to proceed. The former owners say she has been sold to a company which will establish a gulf line, but their names are unknown.

The vessel is a large one and can proceed from Panama City on 20 minutes' notice, according to parties coming from Panama City. It is known that secret service men are keeping a watch on the vessel.

INTERESTING RIDES AND DRIVES

POINTS WORTH VISITING

OCEAN BEACH—excellent motorist north for 10 miles and south 15 miles to Mosquito inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surface road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 3 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE—a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

INTERESTING RIDES AND DRIVES

DAYTONA BEACH—The beach is of world fame, reached by motor from within three miles of the city to the magnificent beach, 15 miles long. Usually a number of bathers may be seen in the five lanes. This is a trip tourist should make.

DELMON SPRINGS, 15 miles from Daytona; mammoth spring throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delicious bathing pool, and pleasant scenery. Spring is situated in old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip, a picnic party.

OAK HILL—hamlet, 10 miles from New Smyrna; several groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles from Daytona; reached by boat; mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Many other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard-surfaced road; or the trip can be made by the road on crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the river can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—3 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are now in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

Knowing that the general public is always interested in and open for any investment in a good, live business proposition, we take the liberty of presenting to you what seems to us to be an excellent business proposition, and in which, no doubt, you will take a lively interest. Please advise us the amount of stock you wish to subscribe toward the forming of a company for the exploitation of this idea.

The object of this company is to operate a large cat ranch near Kent City, where land can be purchased cheaply.

To start with, we will collect, say about 100,000 cats. Each cat will average about twelve kittens a year. The skins will sell for from ten cents for the white ones to seventy-five cents for the pure black. We will have about 12,000,000 skins to sell, at $10,000 a day gross.

From this amount, however, we will deduct 10 per cent, allowing for overhead expenses, losses from disease and other deductions, making a total profit of $8,800 a day. This, however, will be more than offset by the very conservative estimate in the increase of cats per year, which should be double that stated above, and we are not considering the profit that could be obtained by skinning the rats before feeding them to the cats.

A man can skin fifty cats a day. He will charge $2.00 a day for his labor. It will take about one hundred men to operate this ranch, therefore the profit will be about $9,800 a day.

We will feed the cats on rats, and will start a rat ranch adjoining the cat ranch. The rats will multiply four times as fast as the cats, and if we start with 100,000 rats, we will have four rats a day for each cat, which is plenty.

We will feed the cats on rats, and in turn will feed the rats on the stripped carcasses of the cats, thus giving each rat one-fourth of a cat.

It will be seen by these figures that the business will be self-acting and automatic. The cats will eat the rats and the rats will eat the cats, and we will get the skins. Awaiting your reply, we beg to remain, Yours truly,

COMMISSION WANTED FOR STATE ROADS

GOV. TRAMMELL IN FAVOR OF PASSING SUCH A BILL

TRAVELING ROAD EXPERT WOULD BE AT SERVICE OF ALL COMMISSIONERS IF BILL IS PASSED.

That Gov. Park Trammell will give his influence in the passage of the proposed bill for the appointment of a state highway commission and favor other measures for the further development of roads in the entire state, is the assurance that the legislative committee of the Florida Good Roads association has again received. During the session of the good roads convention in Eustis, February 27-28, Gov. Trammell let the delegates know that he was heart and soul in the plan of the state encouraging and aiding the construction of an adequate road system in all the counties.

In one proposed bill, a provision is outlined for the appointment of five commissioners by the governor who will serve without pay. The commission in turn will secure the services of a practical and competent road building expert, who will travel from one part of the state to another and advise with boards of county commissioners regarding construction of highways and bridges.

The backers of the bill and the legislative committee in general think such an authority, always at the command of the county commissioners in any county of the state, would be a means of saving much money. In the past, a number of counties have invested considerable sums in experiments. With the traveling road expert, the experience gleaned from such experiments would be in reach of any county, without it having to go to such a cost.

There is no special bill which good roads authorities are pushing with the vim and energy with which they have taken up the one empowering the governor, through proper legislation, to name a good roads commission of the state. The matter has met the approval of many of the county commissioners. The members of the legislative committee of the Florida State Good Roads association are holding themselves in readiness to make a trip to Tallahassee, three or four days after the convening of the legislature in April, to boost for the passage of the highway commission bill.

Judge H. B. Phillips of Duval county; A. B. Dunning, of DeLand, and W. B. Powell, of Tampa, were members of this committee at a meeting in Jacksonville Saturday, where the general results of the Eustis good roads convention and other good road matters were talked over. No action was taken on any of the matters discussed but each reported much interest being manifest in their respective committees for some legislative action on good roads.

At the Eustis convention, half the counties of the state were represented and those in attendance have been busily at work, it is said, to enlist the aid of their representatives in the legislature which will convene in April.

SUREST TEST OF OLD AGE

Don't Look at Your Face for the Signs of Time's March—Watch the Heart.

The dear little old lady was just as cross as she could be! All because the old-fashioned conductor had said: "Be careful. Watch out, grandma. Don't get off the car till it stops."

It was probably the first time that from the lips of a stranger came the verdict that the world had begun to look upon her as an old lady.

She must have known that her shoulders were a bit stooped—but old? No, not just in the prime of life, and the very idea of that man calling out: "Watch out, grandma!"

But after all, what matters what the conductor said? There is a rumor of inner consciousness that should tell one if one is growing old.

"Don't look at your face to see if age is creeping on. Watch the heart. Beware of allowing care to make crows' feet there."

Oliver Wendell Holmes summed up the philosophy of life when he said: "I am seventy years young today." Every birthday should see one's heart younger. The only way to keep from growing old is to keep growing young. The only time to begin growing young is before one begins to grow old.

There are mental attitudes and limping worse than those of a faltering foot. There are aches and pains caused by selfishness and narrowness much worse than those of rheumatism. Begin this moment to grow young.

"House Sisters."

The House-Sisters Association of Berlin was established not long ago to ennoble domestic service and to establish better relations between the employers and the employed. The association has a "Mother House" near the city, where girls are trained for services, situations being found for them when competent. Those in charge of the home keep in touch with the girls after they have gone out into the world to make their own way.

GENERAL FIGHTING IN THE NORTHERN STATES TODAY

THE DAILY MARKET REPORT.

NEW YORK, March 12 — Stocks opened strong and sharply higher today, but by noon they were selling off and losing most of the early gains. Cotton opened steady and unchanged to four higher with May at $11.92 and July at $11.85.

The Chicago Markets—

CHICAGO, March 12 — May wheat, $9 3-4c; pork, $20.70; lard, $10.50; ribs, $10.70; hogs, five higher.

Some Time to Wait.

One evening an Irishman chanced to drop into a quiet meeting house of the Quakers, and being rather astonished as to what manner of place it was, resolved to remain quiet and listen. He behaved with remarkable decorum until a broad brim, no doubt moved by the spirit, informed his hearer: "I have married a wife," evidently being about to use this as a text. Pat was excited and called out, "The devil ye have."

This interruption rather confused the young man, but he continued: "I have married a daughter of the Lord."

This was too much for our Emerald Islander, who exclaimed: "Sit down, ye spalpeen! It'll be a long time before ye see your father-in-law."

VALUE OF THE SUNROOM

Wise Woman When Superintending the Building of Her Home Will Add This Apartment.

The wise woman when superintending the building of her home will add a sunroom to the house.

This is a place where the children can gain health.

Greenhouses are built to give sunlight to plant life, but the children are allowed to grow in sunless rooms. The sunroom is best when built upon the second floor, facing east and south.

The numerous windows should be built close together and set in a sloping roof.

This room should be arranged so that it is conveniently independent of the rest of the house, in case of illness.

Paint the walls cream, and have the floor parquet. Carpets and rugs should be eliminated from the sunroom. They harbor dust and germs.

Where the floor and wall join, a curve should be made, as in the modern hospitals.

The furniture should be of the simplest; comfortable chairs, settees and cushions with washable covers should be the rule.

Here, during the spring months, the children can study with particularly good results, and spend all recreation hours in this room.

This is an excellent reason why the sensible woman should set this "trap" to catch a sunbeam."

Lawyer for the Apaches.

One Paris lawyer has had his name struck off the rolls because it was discovered that he acted as the regular legal adviser to the "apache" fraternity, from which he drew $6,000 annually in fees. One day he was engaged to defend an apache in a suburban court.

His client was not satisfied with the lawyer's procedure in the case, and after a heated argument outside the court the client threw the lawyer into the River Marne.

Copying Our Games.

France would compete with us in baseball, and now Sweden comes to study American intercollegiate football, planning to introduce the art of punts and mass plays up toward the northern lights. American sports are becoming internationalized. Is the course of empire now taking an eastward course, and will our diamond and our gridiron become, like our government, the admiration of older nations?

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from the Florida Straits Told

Bradford county is organizing for this year the regular corn and tomato club contests, and a large list of prizes therefor has been arranged. It is the largest shipping county in all Florida for strawberries, over 34,000 quarts going from Starke Saturday, with prices ranging from $3.75 to $4 per crate.

An odd accident which resulted in painful injury occurred to Miss Palm Hayes, a resident of Pinellas county. She was standing in the door at her home, with her hand resting on the wall when she moved quickly to one side and fell. Her ring on her finger caught on a nail and the flesh on her finger was torn almost entirely off.

Forrest Snow, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Snow, and one of the most popular young men of Ft. Lauderdale, was drowned at the beach there. The young man was one of a large crowd of bathers, who were enjoying a dip in the surf and remained in the water after his companions had left. He was overcome with an attack of heart trouble and drowned in three feet of water before assistance could reach him. His remains will be taken to his old home in Ohio for interment.

The executive committee of the Ponce de Leon celebration at St. Augustine has been advised by the officials of the Florida East Coast railway that a rate of one and one-third fare will be in force from March 31 to April 1, 2 and 3, limited to return April 5. This rate applies to Jacksonville and Palatka, also to all intermediate points. Military bodies will be granted the usual rates for state troops, one cent per mile, 20 or more men traveling on one ticket.

The $70,000 government building which President Taft made possible for Sanford by signing the bill which meant so much to Florida before retiring from the presidency, will leave a pleasant memory of him in the hearts of the people in that city who will be benefited by the act at the present time, as well as those of the future. An elegant new building and postoffice will add another crowning dignity which Sanford richly deserves, and will proudly sustain.

Believing that Pensacola as well as each of the other six West Florida ports doing more or less commerce, would be hampered by the restricting of the customs service as originally planned, Secretary Henderson of the Pensacola Commercial association, will in all probability endeavor to have the association go on record as favoring two customs districts in Florida and seek to have the change made. According to former President Taft's message to congress, seven customs districts in Florida, including the Pensacola district, should be abolished, Jacksonville to be the only one of the eight Florida customs districts to be retained. All ports will be in charge of deputy collectors of customs.

The Young Man of the Bridge

By DOROTHEA HALE

In Constantinople there has always been, since its conquest by the Turks, a miscellaneous population. Persians, Greeks, races of western and southern Europe are mingled together, besides Moors from northern Africa. Some of these peoples form colonies among themselves and continue the customs of their native countries. Consequently there are a great many queer customs in Constantinople.

Among these customs perhaps the strangest is betrothal and marriage among the Moors. There is no such thing as a courtship among them. Marriages are arranged by contract between the parents of the groom and the bride, who do not see each other until they are married. Yet the human heart in these people beats the same as among other races. It may be well for a bride if she has not met some man to whom she has given her heart, for, fancy free, she may fall in love with her husband or at least become attached to him as is natural between those who live and bring up children together. But woe to the young girl who has seen the man who has inspired her with a great passion.

The marriage ceremony among these people is also peculiar, as will appear in the case of a young Moorish girl called Ayxa, who was betrothed to a young man named Muley Abdul by her parents, but who had fallen in love with a young man she had seen but once. The young, especially girls on the threshold of womanhood, are prone to succumb before a single glance of a man who captivates their fancy, and southern races are more liable to this than colder blooded peoples of the north. Ayxa in crossing that much frequented bridge uniting two parts of Constantinople, stopped to look down over the side into the water. While doing so she uncovered her face, since there was no man below to see it. Presently turning her eyes aside she saw a young man also leaning over the side, but instead of looking into the water he was gazing at her. She saw the lovelight in his eyes and unconsciously returned it.

Covering her face, she pursued her way. But from that moment she was changed. Her young and excitable being saw in all about her that face alone. At least it was all that excited a response in her. Indeed, it became a part, the greater part of her being.

It was at this time that negotiations were entered upon for her marriage with Muley Abdul. When she heard of them she had not met the young man on the bridge, and they did not especially interest her—that is, they were not repulsive to her. After the meeting they became a horror to her. But she could do nothing to prevent the union that awaited her. She had met the young man of the bridge but once, and even if she had seen him often and they had become lovers it would not have made any difference. She would have married the man provided for her and that without having seen him.

The arrangements for the marriage having been completed, the parents of the bride and the groom, who were both Moors, prepared for the wedding, to be celebrated as it would have been celebrated in Tangier or Tripoli. Ayxa, as was the custom, was to be carried to her husband at night. The street in the Moorish quarter through which the bride would pass was lined with persons to see her pass. She was at home with her father and mother and the woman who had nursed her from babyhood. Languidly she bade her parents goodbye and left them, going with her nurse, who in accordance with the ceremony was to conduct her to her husband.

And now comes the strangest part of this strange custom. The nurse left the house, carrying a box which contained the bride, placed it on a mule standing before the door, then led the animal down the street. Moving slowly to the sounds of wailing music, the old woman, the mule and the bride within the box proceeded on their way to the home of the groom. As they passed house after house friends emerged to salute the bride.

None knew the feelings of Ayxa, for she had not confided them even to her mother. What desperate resolve was in her fierce Moorish bosom she kept hidden there. A bride who had loved another, on her way to an unknown husband, had been found at the door of his house dead in the box that enclosed her, by her own hand. Indeed there were those along the route who, remembering this, shuddered lest the casing concealed a corpse. But nearly all were as loud in their congratulations as if Ayxa was going to the husband of her choice.

At last the home of the groom was reached. He was not at the door to receive her, but waited for her within. When a living bride stepped from the box there were those in the throng who breathed a sigh of relief.

Ayxa was conducted by her mother-in-law to the room where her husband awaited her. There she was left to enter alone. She was expected to advance toward him and throw herself at his feet. Instead of doing so she stopped short and fixed her gaze upon him. Then she sank upon the floor in a swoon.

In a few moments she revived to find herself in the arms of the man she had married. He was looking down upon her with love and delight in his eyes. He was the young man she had met on the bridge.

NAVAL GUN TELESCOPES.

Device That Made Possible Accurate Long Range Firing.

It was about the year 1885 that the telescope was first tested in conjunction with the firing of a modern gun. The tremendous concussion broke the lens, however, so that in order to use it at all the telescope had to be detached from the gun before firing, thereby entailing a loss of several seconds in time after aim had been taken.

Later, to obviate this defect, the telescope was adjusted to the axis of the gun by a system of parallel arms moving up and down in unison with the gun, though detached from it. This of course was a great improvement, but there were still grave practical defects. Well, along in the early nineties Henry C. Mustin, a young midshipman at Annapolis, lean faced and square of jaw, built like a medium sized Hercules, quiet mannered, but a bulldog in the football field, interested himself in the study of optics. Naturally enough, his thoughts were directed to the defective lenses of the gun telescopes. The lenses broke when the guns were fired; therefore it was necessary to invent a nonbreakable lens.

One day years later, while stationed in Washington, Mustin called a few of his brother officers to the window near his desk on the second floor of a building in the navy yards. He showed them a lens with a metal band "shrunk" around its circumference. They opened the window and deliberately threw the lens with all his might upon the brick pavement below. The others knew of his pet hobby and thought he had given it up in disgust and had taken this way of telling them so. But he put on his hat, lit a cigarette and bade them follow him. He led them down the stairs and considered joking and out to the spot where the lens lay on the pavement. The glass was unbroken. The one great defect of the telescope sight had been overcome, and Mustin had made possible the long range gunnery of the modern navy. The thud of the little glass disk with its metal collar upon the brick pavement was the signal for the officers to begin to build their Dreadnoughts.—American Magazine.

LONG HAIRD MEN.

They Caused a Vigorous Protest in Massachusetts in 1649.

The following protest signed by Joseph Endicott, governor; Thomas Dudley, deputy governor; Richard Bellingham, Richard Saltonstall, Increase Nowell, William Hibbins, Thomas Flint, Robert Bridges and Simon Bradstreet was published in Massachusetts in 1649:

"Protest, against wearing long hair, of the governor, etc., of Massachusetts:

"Forasmuch as the wearing of long hair, after the manner of Russians and barbarous Indians, has begun to invade New England, contrary to the rule of God's word, which says it is a shame for man to wear long hair, as also the commendable custom generally of all the godly of all our nation, until within these few years:

"We, the magistrates, who have signed this paper, for the shewing of our own innocence in this behalf, do declare and manifest our dislike and detestation against the wearing of such long hair, as against a thing uncivil and unmanly, whereby men do deform themselves and offend sober and modest men and do corrupt good manners. We do therefore earnestly treat all the elders of this jurisdiction, as often as they shall see cause, to manifest their zeal against it in their public ministrations, and to take care that the members of their respective churches be not defiled therewith; that so, such as prove obstinate, and will not reform themselves, may have God and man to witness against them. The third month 10th day, 1649."

The Stranger.

A stranger knocked at a man's door and told him of a fortune to be made. "Um!" said the man. "It appears that considerable effort will be involved."

"Oh, yes," said the stranger; "you will pass many sleepless nights and toilsome days!"

"Um!" said the man. "And who are you?"

"I am called Opportunity."

"Um!" said the man. "You call yourself Opportunity, but you look like hard work to me."

And he slammed the door.—Pittsburgh Post.

Frenzied Arithmetic.

Three-year-old Amy, who had a very lively little brother, was being put through a lesson in arithmetic by her uncle. She had successfully added one and one, but stuck at two and one.

"Your mamma," said her uncle, "has two children. If she had one more what would that make?"

"Oh," cried Amy, "that would make my mamma crazy!"—Woman's Home Companion.

A Gentle Hint.

"I'm hungry," said the out of a job tragedian.

"Well," said the kind hearted (?) manager, "can't I give you something to appease your hunger?"

"Surely," said the actor. "I believe I'd prefer a few dates."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CATCHES TOAD FISH INSIDE OF A BOTTLE

Catching a toad fish inside of a bottle was the unusual experience of W. Frank Fiero of Brooklyn, who was fishing from the south bridge near the bottle had been broken and the toad fish had entered it as a small fish had grown until too large to get out.
With his head at the small opening at the top his body filled the bottle inside the bottle, which had evidently been in the water for some months. The hook at the end of the line in the hands of Mr. Fiero was just right for the fish to swallow the hook and bait and the fisherman pulled up both fish and bottle. Mr. Fiero is a winter visitor here, spending some time at the home of his brother, John W. Fiero, 25 Cedar street.

Old-Time Letter Writing.
For the purposes of letter-writing the leaves of some trees were early used, while the inner bark of the infor this purpose that it has given the

But one of the most convenient ma-covered with a thin coating of wax,
